LUTHERAN CHURCH

WELCOME

ROOTED IN GOD'S GRACE AND SHAPED BY
THE TEACHINGS OF CHRIST, WE ARE A PLACE OF WELCOME, JUSTICE, HEALING, AND BELONGING.

We cherish the presence of children in our services. If your little one needs a moment to move or reset, the library is available with toys and books, and the service is live streamed there so you won't miss a thing.

As we prepare for worship, please silence your mobile devices.
We invite you to a time of silence and focus.

Believing that all are one in Christ, whether believer, doubter, or seeker, and being aware that lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender persons are excluded by some congregations, we welcome, support, and celebrate people of all genders, gender expressions, and sexual orientations, as well as black, indigenous, and all people of color, and all who suffer discrimination in any form. As followers of Christ, who calls us to reconciliation, we pledge to strive to live as a reconciling people in our life together and our outreach to the world. We welcome all to Northlake Lutheran Church.

Jesus, Cornerstone of Our Faith

God has showered humanity with gifts and blessings, but humanity continues to abuse those gifts. We have been entrusted with a creation to care for, and in our shortsightedness we abuse and pollute the earth, even bringing about the extinction of entire species. We have been given the ability to create so many wonderful things, and even this gift we abuse as we gather and keep as much as we can for ourselves.

This is nothing new. Even in the days of Isaiah it was clear the people turned away from God's gifts. God expected righteousness and justice. Instead the people responded with bloodshed and suffering, turning away from God. Even if you can think of all the ways you have not turned from God and all the ways you have been faithful, it does no good. As Paul reminds us in the reading from Philippians, "Yet whatever gains I had, these I have come to regard as loss because of Christ" (Phil. 3:7). Even all of Paul's good and faithful acts add up to nothing. For Paul, and for us, all that matters is Jesus.

As Christ himself reminds us, he is our rock, our cornerstone. Jesus is the foundation for our faith and the foundation for our lives. Even as we turn from Jesus, even as we reject Jesus, he returns to us with love and forgiveness. This is the grace of God, the love of God coming into our world and into our lives. To our joy we discover the open arms of Jesus on the cross, bringing life into this world even where there is death; bringing hope where there is despair; and bringing resurrection to all creation.

Call to Worship

In ELCA congregations, a “call to worship” is any word, song, or action that gathers the community and invites us to recognize that God is the one who has called us together. Often this happens through an opening hymn, greeting, or brief liturgical dialogue that moves us from everyday busyness into a shared awareness of God’s presence and grace. In Lutheran understanding, worship is primarily God’s action; the call to worship simply helps us respond, with humility and joy, to the God who already welcomes us.

Prelude and Welcome

Peace of the Lord be with you. And also with you.

Gathering Hymn Christians sing a gathering hymn to unite the congregation, prepare their hearts for worship, and give an audible testimony of their faith and beliefs to both God and the world.

Grounding we take time to ground ourselves to hear, experience, and respond to our Christian call in Christ Jesus

Greeting

Christians sing the Kyrie—"Lord, have mercy; Christ, have mercy; Lord, have mercy"—because it is a simple, ancient prayer that turns us honestly toward God's compassion at the very start of worship. In ELCA teaching, this sung plea is both personal and communal: we bring our own brokenness and the world's suffering before God, trusting that mercy, not judgment, is God's deepest word to us in Christ. The Kyrie prepares us to hear Scripture and share the Meal by centering us in grace, and it joins our local congregation to the global church's long, hopeful cry for healing and peace.

May the peace of the Lord be with you all. And also with you.

Kyrie

mer - cy. A - men.

We include the Kyrie—"Lord, have mercy"—because Christian worship begins by honestly naming our need for God's compassion and help, both personally and for the whole world. In ELCA practice, the Kyrie is a sung or spoken dialogue in which the assembly calls on Christ's mercy, often linking our prayers to the suffering, injustice, and longing around us, so that worship reflects "the wideness of God's mercy for the whole world." This simple, repeated prayer centers us in grace, prepares us to hear the Word, and connects our local worship to the global church's ancient cry for God's healing and peace.

You might find it meaningful to explore how ELCA worship uses different musical styles and cultures to express the Kyrie while still keeping mercy at the heart of our common prayer.

Confession and Pardon

We have confession in Christian worship because, as Luther teaches, confession has two parts: we honestly name our sins before God and we receive God's forgiveness as sheer gift. In ELCA life, corporate confession acknowledges that we sin both individually and communally—"by what we have done and by what we have left undone"—and that of harmful oppressive systems that harm the most marginalized and vulnerable, calling for our repentance. Confession is not meant to shame us but to free us: standing in the "bright light" of God's truth, we trust that God's mercy in Christ never abandons us and that the Holy Spirit is at work to transform our lives toward love and justice.

Blessed be the holy Trinity, + one God, who forgives all our sin, whose mercy endures forever.
Amen.

Let us confess our sin in the presence of God and of one another.

(Brief moment of silence). Gracious God, have mercy on us. We confess that we have turned from you and given in to the power of sin. We are truly sorry and humbly repent. In your compassion, forgive us our sins, known and unknown, things we have done and things we have failed to do. We have not loved you with our whole heart; we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves. Turn us again to be followers of Jesus and uphold us by your spirit, so that we may live and serve you in newness of life through Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord.

God, who is rich in mercy, loved us even when we were dead in sin, and made us alive together with Christ. By grace you have been saved. In the name of + Jesus Christ, your sins are forgiven. Almighty God strengthen you with power through the Holy Spirit, that Christ may live in your hearts through faith. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all. And also with you.

Canticle of Praise

The "Canticle of Praise" (such as "Glory to God in the highest" or "This is the Feast" "Now the Feast and Celebration") usually appears earlier in the liturgy, in the Gathering, to celebrate God's presence and the saving work of Christ as we begin worship.

Refrain

Prayer of the Day

Beloved God, from you come all things that are good. Lead us by the inspiration of your Spirit to know those things that are right, and by your merciful guidance, help us to do them, through Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. Amen.

Temple Talk

The Word

Images in the Readings

The importance of wine in the diet of biblical societies is evident in the Bible's continual use of the vineyard as an image of the people. Wine, suggesting the goodness of communal participation, serves as a corrective to more recent individualist interpretations of Christian faith. Vineyards grow from age-old roots and require dedicated tending. God owns the vineyard: we are only renters; we need to collaborate with one another to produce good wine.

The passage in the Psalms about the rejected stone becoming the cornerstone caught on in Christianity. In Ephesians 2:20 Paul calls Christ Jesus the cornerstone of the household of God; in Acts 4:11 Luke uses cornerstone as a metaphor for Christ, as does the author of 1 Peter in 2:7. It is yet another biblical image about the reversal of values that God intends. The idea is that a huge stone at the foundation is not merely a decorative marker but actually supports the weight of the building above.

First Reading - Isaiah 5:1-7

I will sing for my beloved my love song concerning his vineyard: My beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile hill. He dug it and cleared it of stones and planted it with choice vines; he built a watchtower in the midst of it and hewed out a wine vat in it; he expected it to yield grapes, but it yielded rotten grapes. And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and people of Judah, judge between me and my vineyard. What more was there to do for my vineyard that I have not done in it? When I expected it to yield grapes, why did it yield rotten grapes? And now I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard. I will remove its hedge, and it shall be devoured; I will break down its wall, and it shall be trampled down. I will make it a wasteland; it shall not be pruned or hoed, and it shall be overgrown with briars and thorns; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the people of Judah are his cherished garden; he expected justice but saw bloodshed; righteousness but heard a cry!

Arising in the eighth-century bce and warning about the imminent military defeat of Israel and Judah, the first book of Isaiah includes a condemnation of Judah in the ironic form of a love song. Hebrew tradition includes poetic descriptions of the relationship between God and the people both as a marriage and of a tended vineyard. According to the monotheism of the exilic period, there is one powerful God: thus any hardships experienced by the chosen people must issue from God and can be best understood as punishment. The vineyard will have to be destroyed because the very roots of the plants are faulty.

Psalm 80:7-15

Restore us, O God of hosts;

let your face shine upon us, and we shall be saved.

You have brought a vine out of Egypt;

you cast out the nations and planted it.

You cleared the ground for it;

it took root and filled the land.

The mountains were covered by its shadow and the towering cedar trees by its boughs.

You stretched out its tendrils to the sea and its branches to the river.

Why have you broken down its wall,

so that all who pass by pluck off its grapes?

The wild boar of the forest has ravaged it,

and the beasts of the field have grazed upon it.

Turn now, O God of hosts,

look down from heaven;

behold and tend this vine;

preserve what your right hand has planted.

Second Reading - Philippians 3:4b-14

[Paul writes:] If anyone else has reason to be confident in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, a member of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew born of Hebrews; as to the law, a Pharisee; as to zeal, a persecutor of the church; as to righteousness under the law, blameless. Yet whatever gains I had, these I have come to regard as loss because of Christ. More than that, I regard everything as loss because of the surpassing value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord.

For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and I regard them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law but one that comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God based on faith. I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the sharing of his sufferings by becoming like him in his death, if somehow I may attain the resurrection from the dead. Not that I have already obtained this or have already reached the goal, but I press on to lay hold of that for which Christ has laid hold of me. Brothers and sisters, I do not consider that I have laid hold of it, but one thing I have laid hold of: forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal, toward the prize of the heavenly call of God in Christ Jesus.

Holy Wisdom, Holy Word.

Thanks be to God.

This important excerpt, appointed also each year on the Sunday of the Passion, includes the early Christian affirmation of Jesus as Lord, in this context meaning Divine Authority. Thus the hymn ties in well with today's gospel. The paradox of the faith is that we see the will of God of which Matthew wrote in Jesus' death on a cross. "Fear and trembling" is a phrase made famous in theology because of the anguished writings of Søren Kierkegaard; yet Paul concludes the phrase with his confidence in God's good pleasure.

Gospel Acclamation

The gospel acclamation is included in the order of worship so the assembly can stand and joyfully welcome Christ who comes to us in the reading of the gospel. In ELW and other ELCA resources, this sung alleluia or other song is treated as one of the chief acclamations of the liturgy, highlighting that the gospel reading is a special moment when the living Word is proclaimed in our midst. By singing before the gospel, we honor God's presence in scripture, connect the readings with praise, and let the whole community participate bodily and vocally in receiving the good news.

Gospel—Matthew 21:33-46

The Holy Gospel according to Matthew.

Glory to you, O Lord.

[Jesus said:] “Listen to another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, put a fence around it, dug a winepress in it, and built a watchtower. Then he leased it to tenants and went away. When the harvest time had come, he sent his slaves to the tenants to collect his produce. But the tenants seized his slaves and beat one, killed another, and stoned another. Again he sent other slaves, more than the first, and they treated them in the same way. Then he sent his son to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, ‘This is the heir; come, let us kill him and get his inheritance.’ So they seized him, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?” They said to him, “He will put those wretches to a miserable death and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will give him the produce at the harvest time.” Jesus said to them, “Have you never read in the scriptures: ‘The stone that the builders rejected has become the corner-stone; this was the Lord’s doing, and it is amazing in our eyes’?”

“Therefore I tell you, the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people that produces its fruits. The one who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, and it will crush anyone on whom it falls.” When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they realized that he was speaking about them. They wanted to arrest him, but they feared the crowds, because they regarded him as a prophet.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, O Christ.

Why do we preach and follow Christ? According to today's gospel, we have seen in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ the will of God; in believing in Jesus as the Word of God, we enter God's "kingdom," that is, we participate in the life God offers. From the first century on, Christians have debated about what precisely is "the will of his father." Preaching on Sunday has been a primary method for exploring the will of God.

Sermon

Pastor Jill

There is a sermon in Christian worship because God continues to speak a living, personal word of law and gospel into our present lives, not only in the past events of Scripture. In ELCA understanding, preaching is "the living and contemporary voice" that interprets the Bible's witness to the crucified and risen Christ and proclaims both our need for grace and the free gift of that grace "for you." A sermon is meant not just to talk about God but to be a means of grace itself, helping people actually encounter Christ, connect faith with their real struggles and joys, and be equipped for mission and service in daily life.

Apostles' Creed

Christians in the ELCA say the Apostles' Creed in worship because it is a shared, ancient summary of the Christian faith that unites us with believers across time and around the world. When we confess "I believe," we are not proving our worthiness but gratefully trusting the triune God who creates, redeems, and makes us holy, as Luther explains in the Small Catechism's teaching on the Creed. Speaking the Creed together in the liturgy helps shape our worldview, guides how we read Scripture, and comforts us with the promise that our lives are held in God's grace.

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried; he descended to the dead. On the third day he rose again; he ascended into heaven, he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic* church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

* In the Apostles' Creed, "catholic" means "universal." It refers to the whole Church of Christ—all Christians, in every time and place—not just the Roman Catholic Church.

Prayers of Intercession

As Martin Luther emphasized, Christians are called to love and serve their neighbors in their daily vocations. The Prayers of Intercession are one way the gathered Church practices that calling, lifting before God the needs of neighbors both near and far.

Seeking the Spirit of God who makes all things new, we pray for the church and the world.
A brief silence.

God of every generation, we give thanks for all who have sought to renew and transform your holy church (especially Theodor Fliedner, renewer of society). Inspire us to follow their example in our own day.

Hear us, O God. Your mercy is great.

God of every creature, bless and protect the earth and all those who dwell within it. We give thanks for those who have helped us to see your Spirit in creation (especially Francis of Assisi, renewer of the church).

Hear us, O God. Your mercy is great.

God of every tribe and nation, restore peace to the world's conflict zones (regions of crisis may be named), and shelter those who live within them. We pray especially for the safety of the displaced people and refugees.

Hear us, O God. Your mercy is great.

God of every comfort, you made us in your own image. Grant healing and relief to all who are sick or suffering (especially).

Hear us, O God. Your mercy is great.

God of every truth, you draw us nearer to you through your holy word. We give thanks for teachers of the faith (congregational formation ministries may be named). Fill their hearts with your Spirit, that they may inspire others with your truth.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

For what else do we pray? God of every soul, you are the one who calls us home. We give thanks for all the saints who have been restored to perfect unity with you (especially).

Hear us, O God. Your mercy is great.

Trusting in your boundless grace, O God, we lift these spoken prayers and those in our hearts. Amen.

Sharing of the Peace

The peace of the Lord be with you all.

And also with you.

Offering

The offering is part of the order of worship because our giving is a visible, communal response to God's grace, not a "fee" for attending church. In ELCA teaching, we "gather an offering for the poor and the mission of the Church" as a way of connecting the Word we have heard with concrete love of neighbor and service in the world. The offering of money, food, bread and wine—and even music—is a sign that we offer our "selves, our time, and our possessions" back to God for life and love in the world.

As part of our worship we offer back to God a portion of the blessings we have received supporting God's work in the world. If you would like to participate, please place your gift in the offering plate as it is passed. You are also welcome to contribute online.

If you are new or visiting — welcome, we are glad you're here! We'd love to keep in touch. Just fill out a Connect with Us Card from the pews and place it in the offering plate to join our email list and receive updates.

Lift up your hearts. We lift them to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God. It is right to give God thanks and praise.

It is indeed our right, our duty, and our joy that we should at all times and in all places give thanks and praise to you, almighty and merciful God, through our Savior Jesus Christ; who on this day overcame death and the grave, and by his glorious resurrection opened to us the way of everlasting life. And so, with all the choirs of angels, with the church on earth and the hosts of heaven, we praise your name and join their unending hymn:

The Words of Institution

We speak the words of institution in Holy Communion because, as Luther teaches, “the chief thing is God’s Word and ordinance,” not our feelings or actions. In the ELCA, these biblical words—“given for you” and “shed for you for the forgiveness of sin”—proclaim Christ’s promise and, joined to the bread and wine, make the sacrament what it is: the true presences in the body and blood of Christ given for us. Saying them aloud assures each communicant that this gift is personally “for you,” so that we may trust God’s forgiveness, life, and salvation offered at the table.

Holy God, you alone are holy, you alone are God.

The universe declares your praise: beyond the stars; beneath the sea; within each cell; with every breath. We praise you, O God.

We give you thanks for your dear Son: at the heart of human life; near to those who suffer; beside the sinner; among the poor; with us now. We thank you, O God.

In the night in which he was betrayed, our Lord Jesus took bread, and gave thanks; broke it, and gave it to his disciples, saying: Take and eat; this is my body, given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Again, after supper, he took the cup, gave thanks, and gave it for all to drink, saying: This cup is the new covenant in my blood, shed for you and for all people for the forgiveness of sin. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Remembering his love for us on the way, at the table, and to the end, we proclaim the mystery of faith: Christ has died. Christ is risen. Christ will come again.

We pray for the gift of your Spirit: in our gathering; within this meal; among your people; throughout the world.

Blessing, praise, and thanks to you, holy God, through Christ Jesus, by your Spirit, in your church, without end. Amen.

Lamb of God

We sing "Lamb of God" in worship because this biblical title for Jesus proclaims that the crucified and risen Christ is the one who takes away the sin of the world and gives us peace. In ELCA congregations, "Lamb of God" is often sung during Holy Communion, surrounding the meal with praise that echoes Revelation's song, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slaughtered," and reminding us that the bread and wine we receive are the self-giving love of Christ for us and for all creation. This shared song helps the whole assembly join in the church's ancient confession that our hope, forgiveness, and life rest in Jesus, God's Lamb.

4. Lamb of God, you are the way of mer-cy and love:
have mer-cy on us, mer-cy on us, mer-cy on us.
Lamb of God, you take a-way the sin of the world:
grant us peace, grant us peace, grant us peace.

Lord's Prayer Matthew 6:9-13; Luke 11:2-4

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our sins, as we forgive those who sin against us.

Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours, now and forever. Amen.

Communion

Holy Communion is included in the order of worship because, in Lutheran teaching, it is one of the central “means of grace” through which God nourishes faith, forgives sin, and sends us as witnesses to the gospel. The ELCA affirms that Word and Meal belong together as one act of worship: we hear Christ in the Scriptures and preaching, and then receive Christ’s body and blood in bread and wine, being strengthened for life, salvation, and service in the world. Celebrating Communion regularly keeps us rooted in God’s mercy and in the shared table where all are welcomed, forming us as a community of grace and justice for others

Communion is our spiritual unity and fellowship, symbolizing the unity of believers as the “body of Christ”. Just as many people share from one loaf of bread, believers are united to share their faith.

ALL ARE WELCOME.

Red wine and white grape juice are offered by individual cup. Please ask if you would like a gluten-free communion bread option. If you wish to be communed in your seat, please let one of the ushers know.

Music for reflection during Communion.

Post Communion Blessing

Post-communion blessings are included because, after we have received Christ's body and blood, the church prays that this gift will bear fruit in our lives of faith, service, and love for neighbor. In ELCA resources, the prayer after communion and the final blessing act as a "hinge point," giving thanks for the meal and asking God to send us out as Christ's body in the world, "that we may be God's hands and heart and voice at work in the world." In this way, the blessing does not add more grace than Communion already gives, but gently names and affirms the grace we have received and our calling to live it for others.

The God of love draw you into the full accord and of one mind, in the body of Christ Jesus. The God of hope grant you strength and joy in all circumstances through the interceding of the Spirit. Amen.

Prayer After Communion

Sustaining God, with this bread and cup, you nourish us with mercy and abundant life. By your Spirit, send us from this table to serve a needy world. Make us living signs of your liberation, healing, and love, following the way of Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Announcements

SENDING

There is a Sending at the end of worship because God does not gather us only for our own comfort, but to equip and send us into the world as Christ's people. In ELCA understanding, the whole pattern—Gathering, Word, Meal, Sending—moves toward this moment when, blessed and nourished, we are told "Go in peace. Serve the Lord," or "Remember the poor," so that worship flows directly into daily discipleship and justice-seeking love. The Sending reminds us that what we have received in Word and Sacrament is for the life of the world, and that Christ goes with us into every place we live, work, and serve.

Benediction

The God of grace + bless you now and forever. Amen.
