NORTHLAKE
LUTHERAN CHURCH

WELCOME

ROOTED IN GOD'S GRACE AND SHAPED BY
THE TEACHINGS OF CHRIST, WE ARE A PLACE OF WELCOME, JUSTICE, HEALING, AND BELONGING.

We cherish the presence of children in our services. If your little one needs a moment to move or reset, the library is available with toys and books, and the service is live streamed there so you won't miss a thing.

As we prepare for worship, please silence your mobile devices.
We invite you to a time of silence and focus.

Believing that all are one in Christ, whether believer, doubter, or seeker, and being aware that lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender persons are excluded by some congregations, we welcome, support, and celebrate people of all genders, gender expressions, and sexual orientations, as well as black, indigenous, and all people of color, and all who suffer discrimination in any form. As followers of Christ, who calls us to reconciliation, we pledge to strive to live as a reconciling people in our life together and our outreach to the world. We welcome all to Northlake Lutheran Church.

An Invitation to Grace

It is so easy and so tempting to build ourselves up at the expense of others. “I can’t imagine ever doing that.” “How can people live like that?” “Who would do such a thing?” At some point we all think or say these sorts of things. Like it or not, we use these words to comfort ourselves at the expense of others.

But all people stand in need of God’s grace. Each of this day’s readings shows us this reality. In the parable of the two sons, Jesus invites us to choose between two sons when neither fully does the will of their father. Here Jesus makes the point that we are all equally in need of God’s grace. Ezekiel proclaims God’s invitation, “Turn, then, and live” (Ezek. 18:32). This is an invitation that extends to all people from a God deeply desiring a loving and life-giving relationship with humanity.

In Philippians, we are reminded of Jesus’ act of grace on the cross, emptying himself, becoming sin so that all creation might be redeemed through him. In response, we discover a vision of the day in which all creation speaks with a unified voice, declaring that Jesus Christ is Lord.

This is a day of confession and forgiveness. We confess our need for God, our distance from God, and our failures before God. In response, to our joy, we discover again the grace of God outpoured. All humans are in need of God’s grace; God extends grace to all, and one day we will confess that salvation as one people. All of today’s readings reveal the way in which all humans are equal in the eyes of God.

Call to Worship

In ELCA congregations, a “call to worship” is any word, song, or action that gathers the community and invites us to recognize that God is the one who has called us together. Often this happens through an opening hymn, greeting, or brief liturgical dialogue that moves us from everyday busyness into a shared awareness of God’s presence and grace. In Lutheran understanding, worship is primarily God’s action; the call to worship simply helps us respond, with humility and joy, to the God who already welcomes us.

Prelude and Welcome

Peace of the Lord be with you. And also with you.

Gathering Hymn Christians sing a gathering hymn to unite the congregation, prepare their hearts for worship, and give an audible testimony of their faith and beliefs to both God and the world.

Greeting

Christians sing the Kyrie—"Lord, have mercy; Christ, have mercy; Lord, have mercy"—because it is a simple, ancient prayer that turns us honestly toward God's compassion at the very start of worship. In ELCA teaching, this sung plea is both personal and communal: we bring our own brokenness and the world's suffering before God, trusting that mercy, not judgment, is God's deepest word to us in Christ. The Kyrie prepares us to hear Scripture and share the Meal by centering us in grace, and it joins our local congregation to the global church's long, hopeful cry for healing and peace.

May the peace of the Lord be with you all. And also with you.

Kyrie

mer - cy. A - men.

We include the Kyrie—"Lord, have mercy"—because Christian worship begins by honestly naming our need for God's compassion and help, both personally and for the whole world. In ELCA practice, the Kyrie is a sung or spoken dialogue in which the assembly calls on Christ's mercy, often linking our prayers to the suffering, injustice, and longing around us, so that worship reflects "the wideness of God's mercy for the whole world." This simple, repeated prayer centers us in grace, prepares us to hear the Word, and connects our local worship to the global church's ancient cry for God's healing and peace.

You might find it meaningful to explore how ELCA worship uses different musical styles and cultures to express the Kyrie while still keeping mercy at the heart of our common prayer.

Confession and Pardon

We have confession in Christian worship because, as Luther teaches, confession has two parts: we honestly name our sins before God and we receive God's forgiveness as sheer gift. In ELCA life, corporate confession acknowledges that we sin both individually and communally—"by what we have done and by what we have left undone"—and that of harmful oppressive systems that harm the most marginalized and vulnerable, calling for our repentance. Confession is not meant to shame us but to free us: standing in the "bright light" of God's truth, we trust that God's mercy in Christ never abandons us and that the Holy Spirit is at work to transform our lives toward love and justice.

Blessed be the holy Trinity, + one God, who forgives all our sin, whose mercy endures forever.
Amen.

Let us confess our sin in the presence of God and of one another.

(Brief moment of silence). Gracious God, have mercy on us. We confess that we have turned from you and given in to the power of sin. We are truly sorry and humbly repent. In your compassion, forgive us our sins, known and unknown, things we have done and things we have failed to do. We have not loved you with our whole heart; we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves. Turn us again to be followers of Jesus and uphold us by your spirit, so that we may live and serve you in newness of life through Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord.

God, who is rich in mercy, loved us even when we were dead in sin, and made us alive together with Christ. By grace you have been saved. In the name of + Jesus Christ, your sins are forgiven. Almighty God strengthen you with power through the Holy Spirit, that Christ may live in your hearts through faith. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Spirit be with you all. And also with you.

Canticle of Praise

The "Canticle of Praise" (such as "Glory to God in the highest" or "This is the Feast" "Now the Feast and Celebration") usually appears earlier in the liturgy, in the Gathering, to celebrate God's presence and the saving work of Christ as we begin worship.

Refrain

Prayer of the Day

God of love, giver of life, you know our frailties and failings. Give us your grace to overcome them, keep us from those things that harm us, and guide us in the way of salvation, through Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord. Amen.

Temple Talk

The Word

Images in the Readings

The parable speaks of a good and a bad son. Christianity lauds yet another son, the “only Son,” who both answers yes and does the will of God. In the biblical worldview, a son is not understood as an independent agent, but is an extension of the father, owing the father everything. As well, according to the biological understanding of the time, it was the sperm that conveyed full humanity to the fetus. This sense of the child’s connection with the parent is evident also in the reading from Ezekiel. Our culture thinks differently.

We are very distant from the first-century’s horror at the image of the cross. The Roman government reserved this method of death-by-torture for the lowest criminals, and in Deuteronomy 21, even God is said to curse anyone executed by hanging on a tree. In the fourth century, the emperor Constantine outlawed crucifixion as a mode of execution, and since then jewels and gold, art and design have made of the cross an often-beauteous sign of veneration.

Some scholars suggest that “even death on a cross” is a Pauline interpolation into the hymn. The Good Friday liturgy invites persons to come forward to a full-sized rough-hewn cross and bend the knee before it in praise of Jesus.

First Reading - Ezekiel 18:1-4, 25-32

The word of the Lord came to me: What do you mean by repeating this proverb concerning the land of Israel, “The parents have eaten sour grapes, and the children’s teeth are set on edge”? As I live, says the Lord God, this proverb shall no more be used by you in Israel. Know that all lives are mine; the life of the parent as well as the life of the child is mine: it is only the person who sins who shall die.

Yet you say, “The way of the Lord is unfair.” Hear now, O house of Israel: Is my way unfair? Is it not your ways that are unfair? When the righteous turn away from their righteousness and commit iniquity, they shall die for it; for the iniquity that they have committed, they shall die. Again, when the wicked turn away from the wickedness they have committed and do what is lawful and right, they shall save their life. Because they considered and turned away from all the transgressions that they had committed, they shall surely live; they shall not die. Yet the house of Israel says, “The way of the Lord is unfair.” O house of Israel, are my ways unfair? Is it not your ways that are unfair?

Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, all of you according to your ways, says the Lord God. Repent and turn from all your transgressions; otherwise iniquity will be your ruin. Cast away from you all the transgressions that you have committed against me, and get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone, says the Lord God. Turn, then, and live.

This excerpt is assigned as the first reading to emphasize God's desire for our repentance. The good news from Ezekiel is that God wants us to live. For Christians, the "new heart and new spirit" that God promises come through baptism into Christ.

Psalms 25:1-9

To you, O Lord,
I lift up my soul.

My God, I put my trust in you; let me not be put to shame, nor let my enemies triumph over me.

Let none who look to you be put to shame;
rather let those be put to shame who are treacherous.

Show me your ways, O Lord, and teach me your paths.

Lead me in your truth and teach me,
for you are the God of my salvation; in you have I trusted all the day long.

Remember, O Lord, your compassion and love, for they are from everlasting.

Remember not the sins of my youth and my transgressions; remember me according to your steadfast love and for the sake of your goodness, O Lord.

You are gracious and upright, O Lord;
therefore you teach sinners in your way.

You lead the lowly in justice and teach the lowly your way.

Second Reading - Philippians 2:1-13

If, then, there is any comfort in Christ, any consolation from love, any partnership in the Spirit, any tender affection and sympathy, make my joy complete: be of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind. Do nothing from selfish ambition or empty conceit, but in humility regard others as better than yourselves. Let each of you look not to your own interests but to the interests of others. Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus, who, though he existed in the form of God, did not regard equality with God as something to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, assuming human likeness. And being found in appearance as a human, he humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death—even death on a cross.

Therefore God exalted him even more highly and gave him the name that is above every other name, so that at the name given to Jesus every knee should bend, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Therefore, my beloved, just as you have always obeyed me, not only in my presence but much more now in my absence, work on your own salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who is at work in you, enabling you both to will and to work for his good pleasure.

Holy Wisdom, Holy Word.

Thanks be to God.

This important excerpt, appointed also each year on the Sunday of the Passion, includes the early Christian affirmation of Jesus as Lord, in this context meaning Divine Authority. Thus the hymn ties in well with today's gospel. The paradox of the faith is that we see the will of God of which Matthew wrote in Jesus' death on a cross. "Fear and trembling" is a phrase made famous in theology because of the anguished writings of Søren Kierkegaard; yet Paul concludes the phrase with his confidence in God's good pleasure.

Gospel Acclamation

The gospel acclamation is included in the order of worship so the assembly can stand and joyfully welcome Christ who comes to us in the reading of the gospel. In ELW and other ELCA resources, this sung alleluia or other song is treated as one of the chief acclamations of the liturgy, highlighting that the gospel reading is a special moment when the living Word is proclaimed in our midst. By singing before the gospel, we honor God's presence in scripture, connect the readings with praise, and let the whole community participate bodily and vocally in receiving the good news.

Optional Repeat

Gospel—Matthew 21:23-32

The Holy Gospel according to Matthew.

Glory to you, O Lord.

When [Jesus] entered the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him as he was teaching and said, “By what authority are you doing these things, and who gave you this authority?” Jesus said to them, “I will also ask you one question; if you tell me the answer, then I will also tell you by what authority I do these things. Did the baptism of John come from heaven, or was it of human origin?” And they argued with one another, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ he will say to us, ‘Why, then, did you not believe him?’ But if we say, ‘Of human origin,’ we are afraid of the crowd, for all regard John as a prophet.” So they answered Jesus, “We do not know.” And he said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

“What do you think? A man had two sons; he went to the first and said, ‘Son, go and work in the vineyard today.’ He answered, ‘I will not,’ but later he changed his mind and went. The father went to the second and said the same, and he answered, ‘I go, sir,’ but he did not go. Which of the two did the will of his father?” They said, “The first.” Jesus said to them, “Truly I tell you, the tax collectors and the prostitutes are going into the kingdom of God ahead of you. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him, and even after you saw it you did not change your minds and believe him.”

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, O Christ.

Why do we preach and follow Christ? According to today's gospel, we have seen in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ the will of God; in believing in Jesus as the Word of God, we enter God's "kingdom," that is, we participate in the life God offers. From the first century on, Christians have debated about what precisely is "the will of his father." Preaching on Sunday has been a primary method for exploring the will of God.

Sermon

Pastor Jill

There is a sermon in Christian worship because God continues to speak a living, personal word of law and gospel into our present lives, not only in the past events of Scripture. In ELCA understanding, preaching is "the living and contemporary voice" that interprets the Bible's witness to the crucified and risen Christ and proclaims both our need for grace and the free gift of that grace "for you." A sermon is meant not just to talk about God but to be a means of grace itself, helping people actually encounter Christ, connect faith with their real struggles and joys, and be equipped for mission and service in daily life.

Apostles' Creed

Christians in the ELCA say the Apostles' Creed in worship because it is a shared, ancient summary of the Christian faith that unites us with believers across time and around the world. When we confess "I believe," we are not proving our worthiness but gratefully trusting the triune God who creates, redeems, and makes us holy, as Luther explains in the Small Catechism's teaching on the Creed. Speaking the Creed together in the liturgy helps shape our worldview, guides how we read Scripture, and comforts us with the promise that our lives are held in God's grace.

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried; he descended to the dead. On the third day he rose again; he ascended into heaven, he is seated at the right hand of the Father, and he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic* church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

* In the Apostles' Creed, "catholic" means "universal." It refers to the whole Church of Christ—all Christians, in every time and place—not just the Roman Catholic Church.

Prayers of Intercession

As Martin Luther emphasized, Christians are called to love and serve their neighbors in their daily vocations. The Prayers of Intercession are one way the gathered Church practices that calling, lifting before God the needs of neighbors both near and far.

Reminded of God's gracious and abundant love, we offer our prayers, confident that God hears us. A brief silence.

Center your church in humility as we strive to follow in your way. Help us listen to the cries of those who have been unfairly hurt by the church and dare to name difficult truths. Show all your love.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

You call us to care for your creation. Lead us into your promise of a better world through sustainable practices and respect for your handiwork.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

Inspire all in positions of authority to act honorably. Remind them of their call to use their authority for the sake of the common good. Give them the gift of humility.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

Comfort those who come before you in fear and trembling. Calm troubled hearts with your forgiveness. Help all those in need (especially). Grant us your salvation.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

Change this congregation's heart when we say no to your call. Open us to courageous learning and service in our community. Especially in new or challenging places.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

For what else do we pray? Your steadfast love holds all the saints who have finished their work and are at rest. As we grieve, remind us of your mercy so we may also give thanks.

Hear us, O God.

Your mercy is great.

Grant the prayers we have offered, what we have forgotten to ask, and whatever else you see that we need. We ask this in Jesus' name. Amen.

Sharing of the Peace

The peace of the Lord be with you all.

And also with you.

Offering

The offering is part of the order of worship because our giving is a visible, communal response to God's grace, not a "fee" for attending church. In ELCA teaching, we "gather an offering for the poor and the mission of the Church" as a way of connecting the Word we have heard with concrete love of neighbor and service in the world. The offering of money, food, bread and wine—and even music—is a sign that we offer our "selves, our time, and our possessions" back to God for life and love in the world.

As part of our worship we offer back to God a portion of the blessings we have received supporting God's work in the world. If you would like to participate, please place your gift in the offering plate as it is passed. You are also welcome to contribute online.

If you are new or visiting — welcome, we are glad you're here! We'd love to keep in touch. Just fill out a Connect with Us Card from the pews and place it in the offering plate to join our email list and receive updates.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God. It is right to give God thanks and praise.

It is indeed our right, our duty, and our joy that we should at all times and in all places give thanks and praise to you, almighty and merciful God, through our Savior Jesus Christ; who on this day overcame death and the grave, and by his glorious resurrection opened to us the way of everlasting life. And so, with all the choirs of angels, with the church on earth and the hosts of heaven, we praise your name and join their unending hymn:

The Words of Institution

We speak the words of institution in Holy Communion because, as Luther teaches, “the chief thing is God’s Word and ordinance,” not our feelings or actions. In the ELCA, these biblical words—“given for you” and “shed for you for the forgiveness of sin”—proclaim Christ’s promise and, joined to the bread and wine, make the sacrament what it is: the true presences in the body and blood of Christ given for us. Saying them aloud assures each communicant that this gift is personally “for you,” so that we may trust God’s forgiveness, life, and salvation offered at the table.

Holy God, you alone are holy, you alone are God.

The universe declares your praise: beyond the stars; beneath the sea; within each cell; with every breath. We praise you, O God.

We give you thanks for your dear Son: at the heart of human life; near to those who suffer; beside the sinner; among the poor; with us now. We thank you, O God.

In the night in which he was betrayed, our Lord Jesus took bread, and gave thanks; broke it, and gave it to his disciples, saying: Take and eat; this is my body, given for you. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Again, after supper, he took the cup, gave thanks, and gave it for all to drink, saying: This cup is the new covenant in my blood, shed for you and for all people for the forgiveness of sin. Do this for the remembrance of me.

Remembering his love for us on the way, at the table, and to the end, we proclaim the mystery of faith: Christ has died. Christ is risen. Christ will come again.

We pray for the gift of your Spirit: in our gathering; within this meal; among your people; throughout the world.

Blessing, praise, and thanks to you, holy God, through Christ Jesus, by your Spirit, in your church, without end. Amen.

Lamb of God

We sing "Lamb of God" in worship because this biblical title for Jesus proclaims that the crucified and risen Christ is the one who takes away the sin of the world and gives us peace. In ELCA congregations, "Lamb of God" is often sung during Holy Communion, surrounding the meal with praise that echoes Revelation's song, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slaughtered," and reminding us that the bread and wine we receive are the self-giving love of Christ for us and for all creation. This shared song helps the whole assembly join in the church's ancient confession that our hope, forgiveness, and life rest in Jesus, God's Lamb.

4. Lamb of God, you are the way of mer-cy and love:
have mer-cy on us, mer-cy on us, mer-cy on us.
Lamb of God, you take a-way the sin of the world:
grant us peace, grant us peace, grant us peace.

Lord's Prayer Matthew 6:9-13; Luke 11:2-4

Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our sins, as we forgive those who sin against us.

Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

For the kingdom, the power, and the glory are yours, now and forever. Amen.

Communion

Holy Communion is included in the order of worship because, in Lutheran teaching, it is one of the central “means of grace” through which God nourishes faith, forgives sin, and sends us as witnesses to the gospel. The ELCA affirms that Word and Meal belong together as one act of worship: we hear Christ in the Scriptures and preaching, and then receive Christ’s body and blood in bread and wine, being strengthened for life, salvation, and service in the world. Celebrating Communion regularly keeps us rooted in God’s mercy and in the shared table where all are welcomed, forming us as a community of grace and justice for others

Communion is our spiritual unity and fellowship, symbolizing the unity of believers as the “body of Christ”. Just as many people share from one loaf of bread, believers are united to share their faith.

ALL ARE WELCOME.

Red wine and white grape juice are offered by individual cup. Please ask if you would like a gluten-free communion bread option. If you wish to be communed in your seat, please let one of the ushers know.

Music for reflection during Communion.

Post Communion Blessing

Post-communion blessings are included because, after we have received Christ's body and blood, the church prays that this gift will bear fruit in our lives of faith, service, and love for neighbor. In ELCA resources, the prayer after communion and the final blessing act as a "hinge point," giving thanks for the meal and asking God to send us out as Christ's body in the world, "that we may be God's hands and heart and voice at work in the world." In this way, the blessing does not add more grace than Communion already gives, but gently names and affirms the grace we have received and our calling to live it for others.

The God of love draw you into the full accord and of one mind, in the body of Christ Jesus. The God of hope grant you strength and joy in all circumstances through the interceding of the Spirit. Amen.

Prayer After Communion

Sustaining God, with this bread and cup, you nourish us with mercy and abundant life. By your Spirit, send us from this table to serve a needy world. Make us living signs of your liberation, healing, and love, following the way of Jesus, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Announcements

SENDING

There is a Sending at the end of worship because God does not gather us only for our own comfort, but to equip and send us into the world as Christ's people. In ELCA understanding, the whole pattern—Gathering, Word, Meal, Sending—moves toward this moment when, blessed and nourished, we are told "Go in peace. Serve the Lord," or "Remember the poor," so that worship flows directly into daily discipleship and justice-seeking love. The Sending reminds us that what we have received in Word and Sacrament is for the life of the world, and that Christ goes with us into every place we live, work, and serve.

Benediction

The God of grace + bless you now and forever. Amen.

We are created, called, and challenged to be in relationship with God, each other, community, and all of creation.

Sending Song Christians sing ending songs, or recessional hymns, to conclude worship with a communal act of faith and to transition back to daily life.
